Section II: Investment Objective and Risk Tolerance

1. Select the investment objective that most accurately reflects the goals for this account (choose only one)

The investment objectives, account goal, and risk tolerance are overall objectives for the entire account and may be inconsistent with a particular holding at any time. Please note that achievement of the stated investment objectives or account goal is a long-term goal for the account. These choices are listed in order from what is considered to be conservative to highest risk - ask your financial advisor for more details. There is no guarantee that the investment objective or account goal will be achieved.

- ☐ A. Income with Capital Preservation. Designed as a longer term accumulation account, this is considered generally the most conservative investment objective. Emphasis is placed on generation of current income with minimal risk of capital loss. Lowering the risk generally means lowering the potential income and overall return.
- ☐ B. Income with Moderate Growth. Emphasis is placed on generation of current income with a secondary focus on moderate capital growth.
- ☐ C. Growth with Income. Emphasis is placed on modest capital growth with some focus on generation of current income.
- ☐ D. Growth. Emphasis is placed on achieving high long-term growth and capital appreciation. There is little focus on generation of current income.
- ☐ E. Aggressive Growth. Emphasis is placed on aggressive growth and maximum capital appreciation. No focus on generation of current income. This objective has a very high level of risk and is for investors with a longer time horizon.

ATTENTION: If you select an objective and cross it out to choose another, the change must be initialed by all account holders.

2. GWP Only

Section VIII: Financial Institution Related Disclosures and Acknowledgment

1. Acknowledgment

Securities are offered by LPL Financial LLC (LPL) and its registered representatives. LPL is a separate registered broker-dealer and registered investment adviser, is not a bank or credit union, and is not affiliated with your financial institution. Your financial institution will not be a party to any agreement between you and LPL.

- The investment products offered by LPL are not insured by the FDIC, NCUA or any federal or state government agency.
- The investments, insurance and annuity products offered by LPL are not obligations of, or guaranteed by, your financial institution or its affiliates.
- Certain certificates of deposit and cash sweep accounts may be insured by the FDIC, NCUA or a federal or state governmental agency.
- Purchasing securities involves investment risk including the possible loss of principal.
- The extension of credit by your financial institution may not be conditioned on the purchase of an insurance product or annuity from LPL or your financial institution. You may purchase insurance or annuities from a provider of your choice.
- Your financial institution and LPL have entered into a marketing agreement which either allows financial institution employees who accept deposits on behalf of the financial institution to be registered and appointed with LPL for the purpose of offering investment and insurance products or allows financial advisors who are not employees of the financial institution to offer LPL investment and insurance products at the financial institution's branches or facilities.
- The marketing agreement provides for LPL to compensate your financial institution for the referral of the clients and the use of its facilities. Under the agreement, LPL pays your financial institution a portion of the Account Fee on advisory accounts referred by your financial institution, typically between 75% to 100% of the Account Fee if the financial advisor is an employee of the financial institution and between 0% to 75% of the Account Fee if the financial advisor is not an employee of the financial institution. In a few situations, LPL has agreements to provide similar services at financial institutions in which compensation is not shared with the financial institution.
- LPL also provides other forms of compensation to financial institutions, such as bonuses, awards or other things of value offered by LPL to the institution. The amount of this compensation may be more than what the financial institution would receive if you participated in other LPL programs, programs of other investment advisors or paid separately for investment advice, brokerage and other client services.
- Your financial institution and your financial advisor have an incentive for your financial advisor to recommend accounts and services that will result in the greatest compensation to the financial institution and financial advisor. Because LPL pays a portion of the Account Fee and provides other forms of compensation to your financial institution, your financial institution and financial advisor are presented with a conflict of interest that encourages the financial institution and financial advisor to recommend LPL accounts and services.
- All compensation paid to your financial institution under the agreement will be the sole responsibility of LPL, and will not result in any increase in the Account Fee you pay to LPL. In the event that registered representatives are financial institution employees, the financial institution may directly pay, from amounts received from LPL, the registered representatives' compensation in respect of such sales.
- LPL is a member of FINRA and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). SIPC covers losses in investment accounts of up to $500,000 (of which up to $250,000 may be uninvested cash) due to member firm failures but does not cover a decline in the market value of securities. Additional information about SIPC and asset protection may also be found at www.sipc.org.

I hereby certify that I have received the above disclosures orally and have read and completely understand all of the above. I have had any questions regarding this acknowledgment answered to my complete satisfaction

- I authorize LPL to contact my trusted contact person listed above. I understand that providing this information is optional and I may withdraw it at any time.
- I understand no portion of this account can be used as collateral without authorization of LPL Home Office which shall be obtained through the completion of required LPL documentation.
- In the event that I choose to pledge eligible LPL accounts as collateral to a lender for a loan or line of credit, I acknowledge that I cannot and will not use the proceeds from any loan or line of credit to purchase securities.
